

PHILADELPHIANS ARE ALL OUTDOORS THESE DAYS, AS THE CAMERA ARTISTS DEMONSTRATE

CHARLEY HOFFNER

Woodbury's "best bet" in the national amateur golf tournament at the Merion Cricket Club grounds next week, is practicing daily on the Main Line course.

"OCEAN VIEW" ROOMS READY FOR TRAINMEN

Boxcars lying at the P. R. R. Camden freight yards, facing the Delaware River, have been fitted up with accommodations for trainmen as a strike "preparedness" move. The accompanying oval gives a glimpse of a bunk-lined bedroom.

PHILADELPHIA'S HOPE FOR A BASEBALL
PENNANT IN 1916

This is the first official photograph taken of Pat Moran's Phillies this season. The players are, left to right, top row—Duguey, Whitted, Burns, Stock and Bancroft. Middle row—Bender, Mayer, Oeschger, Chalmers, Demaree, Rixey, Luderus, McQuillan, Alexander, Good and Adams. Sitting—Nichoff, Byrne, Cooper, Moran, Killefer, Paskert and Cravath.

PERRY ADAIR
of Atlanta, at practice on the Merion C. C. links. He hopes that he will carry home from Haverford the national amateur golf championship.

SURELY THIS IS NO GYPSY'S WARNING

The "gentle maiden" evinces no indication that the palmist predicts anything but good fortune to follow her visit to the Byberry Fair.

AN AERIAL ARTISTE AT BYBERRY FAIR
The perils of the slack wire seem to be mythical to the skilled performer, although county fair spectators always are fearful of a tumble.

BEN SAYERS
Professional champion of Scotland, is "playing out of a water hazard" on the green at Haverford.
